La Capitale Investment Accounts

The La Capitale
difference

LaCapitale

Insurance and Financial Services

You designated a liquidator of the succession or executor of the estate. This individual will therefore have to administer your property after your death, which is not always a simple task. It involves several steps, including obtaining a number of official documents.

Liquidating an estate can be a heavy financial and emotional burden.

By opting for La Capitale investment accounts, part of the burden can be lifted through an annuity account. You will be getting the best of both worlds: segregated funds and mutual funds.

The La Capitale investment accounts give you access to guaranteed capital in the event of death, at no extra cost.¹
