Features

Checklist

Completing this list will help confirm in your mind exactly what you want and need in your new home.

Be realistic, but don't sell yourself short. If, as you look at homes, you find your dreams exceed your budget, you can always make revisions.

The list will also help you focus on potential future needs. Be sure to take into consideration any plans to start or expand your family. That could affect the number of bedrooms or location.

Determine which features are must-haves and which are negotiable, perhaps using a highlighting marker to indicate the difference.

And, of course, make sure your real estate representative has a copy of the list to prescreen homes before you see them.
